Staying Safe While Staying Connected:

A Free Training Presented by the Arc of Blair County

The Arc, Blair County

If you think you know what happens online, think again. Individuals with disabilities are more at risk of being victimized by scammers and predators. Learn how to protect yourself while using technology.

"The Darker Side of Technology" — James A. Dill, Deputy Chief (Retired), President, Innovative Technology & Investigative Services

- This is a unique and eye-opening class for adults, educators, and especially self-advocates and support staff who want to learn more on how everyday technologies are used (or misused).

- Not only will this class examine and demonstrate how individuals are unwittingly providing information about themselves and their activities, it will also reveal the ways perpetrators are accessing the information. The training provides tools and simple, inexpensive ways to help mitigate that loss and protect the information.

"Creating Responsible People on Smartphones" — Ryan Klingensmith, MA, LPC, NCC

- We'll give you an inside view of the online world we live in. So you'll know how to "talk the talk."
- For at-risk individuals, the Web can be a dangerous place. A critical role our community plays is helping to identify these at-risk individuals and give them the guidance they need, when they need it.
